TUTOR TALES

As a physics/math tutor, one of the best feelings for me is when my tutee has the "Ah! I get it" moment. I have tutored many students before, and I remember all my students who had come to the office, everybody was smart and brave to seek out for support. I personally remember that once, one of my peer tutee told me to let him try one last time to solve the problem before he asked for guidance. The determination to learn and solve problems is the best thing one could ever possess. After several trials that we went through together, he had his "ah I get it" moment which is the best feeling in the world. To be featured in our next issue, Click Here!
