

August 28, 2019: Provost Junius Gonzales invited all faculty and staff to attend CPI Day. President Hank Foley gave closing remarks. The objectives of CPI Day were to:

1. Report to the New York Tech community about Middle States (MSCHE) visiting team's recommendations related to continuous program improvement
2. Clarify CPI purpose to advance New York Tech's mission and priorities, and meet MSCHE's expectation of continuous improvement of institutional and academic effectiveness
3. Clarify CPI process and identify examples of how continuous program improvement has been used to advance mission-based metrics
4. Differentiate the CPI process from more traditional assessment activities

January 16, 2019: Discussion regarding the CPI purpose and its status, moving from accreditation compliance to analytic questions, inquiry-based program review, and common analytic questions and data for CPI.
